

ARRIVING AT CNAO

In case your shift has been allocated during week end, you are invited to arrive to CNAO at least the working day before, so that our staff is available to assist you.

Anyway it is recommended to agree with your liaison scientist the arrival and departure times such that all the formalities and organizational issues can be managed.

The day of your arrival, remember to bring your Identity Card or Passport and present it to the Security at the entrance, that will provide you with a badge, and to check the safety recommendation and procedures for your particular experiment with your local contact.

Prior the beginning of the experimental activities all participants have to follow a briefing about access rules to the irradiation room and safety procedures, at the end of which they will all sign a user agreement.

This form is valid for one year.

Users are welcomed to CNAO 24 hours a day at the guard-room. As the admission at CNAO is secured, safety agents will reserve the right to authorize the entrance on site only for declared participants (a list will be given to safety agents).
